

Next RTFC Auction Wednesday 18th January 2012

The next user-friendly and convenient monthly RTFC auction will take place on Wednesday 18th January.

The next issue of RTFO certificates will be issued by DFT on 15th January and the auction is an ideal way of trading RTFCs.

Buyers are able to maintain their anonymity, balance their certificate position and are not charged any fees while sellers can have access to a good number of buyers and the ability for them to aggregate certificates with other small producers.

Both sellers and buyers are very positive about the RTFC Auctions and see them as an ideal platform for trading certificates in a hassle free, no risk environment.

If you have certificates to trade or need any further information please contact Melanie Reay on 0191 245 7330.
