

Updated platform for RTFC Auctions coming soon.

INTERACTIVE RTFC AUCTION ON ITS WAY

The RTFC auctions provide an ideal platform for both sellers and buyers. After receiving feedback we are currently updating the auction platform to make it more interactive. Price visibility for all will be achieved by allowing sellers to post their reserve prices and giving buyers the option to place and alter offers. On completion of a price match the unique functionality of the auction will start and a market price will be determined.

The auction will still be user-friendly and a convenient trading platform, and of course it will allow both buyers and sellers to maintain their anonymity, if required.

NFPAS will hold a simulation in early May and the launch of the new platform will follow shortly after.
