

Next RTFC Auction – Wednesday 22nd September

Auction Update

Obligated suppliers are very positive about the RTFO Auctions and see them as an ideal platform for which to buy certificates while preserving their anonymity.

Slow trading through the auctions in the last couple of months has been mainly caused by the uncertainty in the market and the impact of the Renewable Energy Directive (RED) on the value of certificates.

NFPAS Auctions have been asked by a number of buyers and sellers to continue with the monthly auctions and we expect to see increased activity in the auction on the Wednesday 22nd September.
